Press Release - 2025 Year 13 Examination Results

The London Nautical School is pleased to share an excellent set of results for our Year 13 students this summer. With pass rates close to 100% across both academic and vocational qualifications, these outcomes reflect the continued year-on-year improvement the school has seen over the past four years.

In vocational qualifications, 98% of entries achieved at least a Merit, with more than half attaining a Distinction. Equally pleasingly, A Level grades have improved on previous years, continuing the upward trajectory of student achievement across the Sixth form.

These achievements are the result of sustained commitment from both students and staff, and we are proud of the dedication and resilience that has underpinned this success. Our Year 13 students now leave well-prepared for their next steps, which include Russell Group universities, sporting scholarships in the UK and overseas, apprenticeships, and a range of careers, including within the maritime sector.

We will provide a further update next week to share some of the individual success stories, along with details of the universities, apprenticeships, and opportunities our students will be embarking upon.
