Dear Parents and Carers,

I hope this letter finds you well. It has been a very positive return to school, and I am delighted to see how focused and hardworking our students have been since coming back. Staff have been impressed with the maturity and effort shown across all year groups.

Students continue to work exceptionally hard, and we are particularly pleased with how well they are responding to the recent student training on habits of attention. Their engagement and conduct during this work have been excellent, and it is clear that they are embracing the high expectations we set for learning behaviours.

Attendance Expectations

I would like to take this opportunity to remind families of the importance of maintaining excellent attendance. As highlighted in previous letters and in line with Department for Education (DfE) guidance, strong attendance is one of the most significant factors in ensuring academic success. We ask for your continued support in ensuring that students attend every day, on time, unless there is a genuine and unavoidable reason for absence.

Upcoming Assessments

Assessment Week for Years 7–10 has now begun, and students should be using this period to demonstrate what they have learned so far. For our examination groups in Years 11 and 13, Pre-Public Examinations will commence next week. These assessments are a critical part of their preparation for the summer examinations, and we encourage all students to revise carefully and approach these assessments with confidence.

Uniform and Weather Guidance

As temperatures begin to drop and with the winter months approaching, I would like to remind families of our expectations around uniform. Hoodies are not permitted and should not be worn into school. Coats and jackets must be navy blue or black, and students are not allowed to wear balaclavas at any time.
