London Nautical School seeks a Lead Teacher of Science reporting to the SLT/Line Manager. The successful candidate will have a proven track record of driving achievement and development within the science curriculum / department. We are seeking a teacher who is now looking for a more challenging role to develop their career, make a wider impact across the whole department and who will be able positively contribute to the departments / students progress.

Our school has a unique history, is situated on the South Bank of the Thames and contains a team who are both proud of our track record and ambitious to develop further. Our learning community strives to embrace the richness of London's proud commercial heritage, the affordances of our being located in the heart of London's cultural mecca and the thrill of working with a broad and multi-ethnic intake of young Londoners.

In our teachers we prize innovation, rigour and passion in equal measure. Teachers at The London Nautical School experience a high degree of autonomy and thrive in a culture of professional respect and collegiality. We seek applicants who can demonstrate that they embrace their professional role in all its dimensions.

The London Nautical School, with its 600 students, is a close-knit, warm environment. We seek colleagues who value this and wish to contribute to the wider life of the school. Please contact Ms Jaime Pimlott at hr@LNS.org.uk should you wish to find out more or to arrange a visit.
